Bill Would Provide College Aid

By MIKE PARKS

A new bill to provide financial aid to college students has been introduced in the U.S. Senate, according to a recent article in the Catholic Reporter.

The bill was brought forth shortly after the defeat by a narrow margin of an amendment to the tax cut bill which would have allowed income tax deductions for college expenses.

Sen. Vance Hartke (D-Ind.) introduced the new bill he says would aid 1.2 million students by 1968 and would cost just half of what the earlier proposal would have cost.

THERE ARE FOUR major features of Hartke's plan:

1) An undergraduate scholarship program which would provide scholarships based on merit to 200,000 students by 1968.

2) Expansion of the National Defense Education Act (NDEA) (by which many S.U. students obtain government loans). The yearly limit of NDEA loans would be raised from $1,000 to $1,500 for undergraduates and $2,000 to $2,500 for graduate students. A total of 600,000 students would eventually receive loans from this program.

3) A STUDENT LOAN insurance program which would involve a self-sustaining revolving fund of $1 million to encourage commercial sources to offer student loans. It would eventually involve 110,000 students.

4) A student work-study program which would avail $250 million annually to cooperating institutions which would use the money to pay students for performing on-campus jobs related to their studies. It would benefit 330,000 each year.

STUDENTS WHO plan to teach in private schools would receive a special benefit if the bill were passed. It would extend to NDEA loan recipients who elect to teach in non-public schools a forgiveness feature now enjoyed only by those who teach in public schools. Graduates who go on to teach in private schools would be allowed up to 50 per cent reduction of NDEA loans.

Sen. Hartke estimates that his program would cost a maximum of $650 million yearly. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff's (D-Conn.) tax deduction measure would have cost an estimated $750 million the first year and $1.3 billion yearly by 1970. His program had no provisions for direct aid to students.

Sen. Hartke's bill (designated S. 2490) has been referred to the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

IN THE INTEREST of those who wish to write members of Congress urging action on this bill, the chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee is Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.).

Democrats on the committee are the Senators: Pat McNamara, Michigan; Wayne Morse, Oregon; Ralph Yarborough, Texas; Joseph Clark, Pennsylvania; Jennings Randolph, West Virginia; Harrison Williams, New Jersey; Quentin Burdick, North Dakota, and Claiborne Pell, Rhode Island.

Military Ball Royalty Candidates Selected

S.U.'s ROTC cadets have selected semi-finalists for the Military Ball Queen and court.

The Military Ball this year will be April 10 in the Grand and Spanish ballrooms of the Olympic Hotel.

EACH OF the semi-finalists has been selected by one of the ROTC sections of her class.

JUNIOR candidates are Janice Walters, Carolyn Cline and Margie Byrne.

The senior semi-finalists are Linda Lowe and Kathy Driscoll.

Each class will vote next Tuesday to select the princess. The senior class will select the Military Ball Queen from the four princesses.

THE QUEEN will be announced in next Friday's issue of The Spectator.

The theme for this year's ball is "The Old Military." The dance committee workers include Fred Bruener, Larry Daly, Pat Byrne, Pat Fahey, Mike Flaherty and Vince Muscolo.

Maj. Gen. William Garrison, commanding general of the X U.S. Army Corps, will present the Queen at the dance.

Leahy, McHugh Win

By MIKE PARKS

Dan Leahy and Mick McHugh were chosen yesterday to be the final candidates for ASSU president as a record number of primary election voters went to the polls. Leahy beat McHugh by 18 votes.

Harry Purpur, the third presidential candidate, was eliminated from the race.

A total of 1,316 voters cast ballots. Terry Dodd, election board coordinator, said it was the largest primary election vote on record.

THE ELECTION outcome (with the names of candidates in next Thursday's final in bold face type) was as follows:

ASSU President
Daniel Leahy	545
Mick McHugh	527
Harry Purpur	228
First Vice President
Brian McMahon	656
Jim Picton	530
Nader Spahi	97
Second Vice President
Tom Bangasser	542
Bruce Weber	462
Tom Stamnes	293

Secretary
Karen Disotell	613
Carol Moergeli	383
Rita Sullivan	255

AWS Vice President
Lynn Dunphy	236
Sue Heguy	218
Judy Comfort	180
Pat McAuliffe	90

Secretary
Patsy Hackett	415
Marg Swallow	123
Barb Meyers	102
Nancy Tarabochia	78

Treasurer
Theresa Zipp	325
Lynn Teplicky	236
Mary Haaland	114

TERRY DODD said that Tom Bangasser received a 36-hour campaign rights suspension Wednesday for illegal posters. The only change in the ballot was the withdrawal of Suzanne Green from the race for ASSU secretary. She withdrew last Friday.

There will be a meeting today at 1 p.m. in the Chieftain lounge for all the candidates in the final election.

The Spectator will publish statements next Wednesday by the candidates for ASSU president, first and second vice president, and treasurer. It is requested that they be typewritten, double-spaced, in 60-space lines.

PRESIDENTIAL candidates may submit 32 typed lines, vice presidential candidates 25 such lines and treasurer candidates 20 lines.

The statements must be submitted to the Spectator Building, 915 E. Marion, by 7 p.m. Sunday. Any material submitted later or exceeding the above limits will not be published.

The ASSU cultural committee will sponsor a debate tomorrow night for the presidential and first vice presidential candidates. The debate is open to all students and is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Ba. 102.

Commissioner to Speak

The guest speaker at today's interracial relations class will be Alfred Westberg, Seattle attorney and chairman of the Seattle Civil Rights Commission.

His topic will be "The Seattle Open Housing Ordinance, a ballot issue in March." The class will be at 11:10 a.m. in Pigott Aud.

Happy Days for Half-filled Pigott

Several editorials this year have had to include phrases like "half-filled Pigott Auditorium" and "lack of student interest." Not so today.

Yesterday the student-faculty committee on open housing sponsored a rally in Pigott at 12:30, and no one was too sure how it would turn out. The committee hoped for at least one hundred students and faculty, and the skeptics were repeating their familiar chant, "You'll get only the handful who attend everything else."

To the surprise of the skeptics, many more than "the handful" showed up. Too often, the students at S.U. have been classified as "Chief-tain vagrants," "party people," and a number of other types, including "cultural-activities attenders."

ALTHOUGH SOME SEATS in front were vacant, Pigott was downright crowded, since the rear wall was lined with people who came late. And the rally was scheduled for a time that would ordinarily mean disaster for any activity—the twelve to one o'clock rush hour.

It was apparent that those who attended did so because they were interested in the issue of open housing and in the broader issue of civil rights. The panel of four speakers—Fr. Toulouse, Dr. Larson, Seattle city councilman Wing Luke, and Dr. Toutonghi—remarkably touched on nearly every aspect of the issue. Each one made meaningful statements that somehow sounded as if they had not been said before.

OBVIOUSLY A GREAT deal of work was involved in staging the rally—work by the committee and more than casual preparation by the speakers.

But it was especially encouraging to note the enthusiasm and interest of the students for such an issue. It was the large number of students and their interest that made the rally a success, and it is only such a representative number of interested students that can have a notable influence on the whole school and the city of Seattle.

Happy days may be here again for "half-filled Pigott Auditorium."

Bloody Mary Trophy?

Loyola News, Montreal, Canada:

Bloody Mary is a familiar character to students of English, but a Bloody Mary Trophy? Loyola students are urged to try something new for Lent by giving up their blood instead of smokes.

L. A. College Times, Los Angeles, Calif.:

California State colleges will start switching to the quarter system in 1965. This will lengthen the use of campus buildings in California and shorten sun-worship for those taking advantage of the summer session.

The Santa Clara, Santa Clara, Calif.:

September will also bring changes to the University of Santa Clara via the quarter system. One of the most novel ideas of the Santa Clara plan is the use of Wednesdays as a day for visiting professors, quizzes and reviews. The university plans to condense courses, stop giving midterms, and allow more time for study.

Prexy Hopefuls to Debate

Paul Hill

The best news thus far in the ASSU campaigns is that a Saturday night discussion will be devoted to a debate between the two finalists for ASSU president.

The plan, aimed as it is at allowing extensive public contact with the student body's most vital office, is a good sign of approaching maturity for the ASSU.

IN THE PAST, presidential candidates' only exposure was at rallies where each of 10 or 20 (if AWS was included) candidates had three minutes to deliver a prepared speech. Even when the rallies were well attended (and frequently they were not), they only succeeded in giving the students an idea of what the candidates looked and sounded like; certainly no one could gather reliable impressions about a candidate's competency after a three-minute speech.

The new idea makes it possible for more students to get a better look at the presidential candidates. Recent Saturday night discussions have had attendances of around 100; a popular topic like election debates should easily draw 200 or more.

SOME HAVE SUGGESTED that all candidates for all offices be included in the Saturday night discussion. This suggestion does have merit, for surely all the offices are important; but the relative importance of the offices must be considered. The ASSU constitution charges the president to supervise all activities of the ASSU—thus he is ultimately responsible even for the functions that other officers perform. The presidency, then, is of overriding importance, since in the final analysis, it is the president's performance that makes or breaks the ASSU. Even the length of one Saturday night discussion is not enough for the candidates to present their complete cases and for the students to have all their questions answered, but it is an improvement over the past, and should be well received.

If all goes well, Saturday at 7:30 p.m., the student body will get its first chance at close and prolonged contact with the presidential candidates and their ideas.

La Crosse, Wis. — (RNS) — Bishop John Treacy has abolished most of the Lenten fasting obligations for members of the La Crosse diocese and has placed them on a voluntary basis as acts of penance.

He said the only obligatory days of fast and complete abstinence for the faithful in his see will be Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, Holy Saturday (until the end of the Easter Vigil), the Vigil of the Immaculate Conception and the Vigil of Christmas.

IN ADDITION, he said, all Fridays of the year will remain days of complete abstinence.

"On the remaining days of Lent," Bishop Treacy stated, "and other days formerly binding under pain of serious sin, I ask all the faithful of the diocese to continue the customary Lenten fast as a free act of penance even though the threat of mortal sin no longer applies."

"I URGE YOU to do this and other acts of penance during the year in a voluntary spirit determining the various conditions with a generous but prudent spirit, making your own judgments in freedom and responsibility as benefits the members of God's own family."

"... the onerous sanction of mortal sin has caused an anxiety of conscience in many and a legalistic formalism akin to Pharisaism in others."

POINTING OUT that "many have observed the fast merely out of morbid fear of mortal sin," the bishop said that the fast "thus observed became for them a yoke of slavery rather than a source of that spiritual joy arising from an act of love."

"Finally, the external sanction of mortal sin is not really conducive to the development of true Christian maturity and a sense of personal responsibility."

To the editor:

Two letters of protest were written last quarter concerning the voting procedure as related to the education majors, i.e., people who were cadeting and were unable to vote at the regular school polling areas at the scheduled times.

These two letters were written by people who had no idea of what actions were taken concerning the matter.

THE REASON why these people were unable to vote by absentee ballot was because there was no organization and the election code was not followed concerning absentee ballots. One of the major arguments of Mr. LaPorte who, by the way, wrote his letter on second-hand information, was that there were enough absentee votes in the education club to swing an election.

Well, Cadets, CONGRATULATIONS. You were allowed to vote and two (2) votes were cast. You were notified by the election board and you really came through. It seems to me that if someone writes a letter of protest and is earnestly concerned about what he writes, he will carry through and see to it that when his requests or demands, as he put it in his letter, are granted, he personally will use action instead of words.

S.U. Chieftains Go for Number 20

By CHUCK HATHAWAY

The Chieftains will be looking for their twentieth win of the "adjustment" season tonight in Portland when they take on the Portland U. Pilots.

Charlie Williams, S.U.'s lightning-quick guard, will go into the contest after receiving an honorable mention rating in the United Press International All-American poll yesterday.

The pre-season label given the Chiefs indicated that they would spend the season adjusting to the new brand of basketball under new coach Bob Boyd. The team, while "adjusting," has piled up a 19-5 record. S.U. failed in its attempt to reach the magic number 20 last Wednesday night leaving the only chance for their last game of the season.

The Chieftains may have some difficulty reaching the magic number as the Pilots are capable of playing fine basketball. So far this year the Pilots have won 16 games, losing only eight, two to Oregon State. Portland is led by their big 6'8" senior center, Steve Anstett, who is averaging about 20 points per game.

THE PILOTS have another big man in Cincy Powell, the 6'6" 230-pound forward, who has been hampered most of the season by injuries.

Despite rumors to the contrary, S.U. will be up for this game says the Chiefs' coach Bob Boyd. The rumor that S.U. is letting down stems from their recent 98-83 loss to Montana. Boyd said the mental attitude of the team was not good before the game but that the Chiefs were tired from the long road trip and that the altitude of the city affected them.

BOYD said that the mental state of the team has been overplayed to some extent in relation to their recent loss.

S.U. will have some big guns going into the last season game, with John Tresvant averaging 17.8 points and 14 rebounds per game. Williams is right behind Tresvant with a 16.6 average and Greg Vermillion is averaging 16 points. Vermillion is second in the rebound department with 188 for 24 games.

The S.U. Papooses will take on the U.W. frosh for the second time this season tomorrow at 6:00 p.m. at Hec Edmundson Pavilion. The Papooses won the first game 101-69.

The NCAA Pre-regional basketball playoff game between S.U. and OSU will be televised starting at 10 p.m. March 10, on KING-TV, Channel 5.

ROTC Takes Lead; Playoff Games Near

The ROTC beat the Knockers 41-36 yesterday and took a half-game lead over the Animals in the 1 p.m. intramural basketball league.

The Knockers led in the first part of the defensive contest but the ROTC, led by Pat Miranda with 15, came on strong in the second half.

In the 1:50 p.m. league contest the Catastrophes dumped the Horn Gunners 65-48. Dave Ellis was high for the losers with 27 points while Bob Herness scored 22 for the winners.

Intramural basketball playoffs begin next Friday. League playoffs for first place are at 1 and 1:50 p.m.

The playoffs will continue the following week. The schedule is: Monday: 1 p.m. playoff for ninth place; 1:50 p.m., for eighth place; 2:45 p.m., for seventh place; 3:30 p.m., open for league playoff game. The playoff for tenth place will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday: 1 p.m., for sixth place; 1:50 p.m. for fifth place; 2:45 p.m., for fourth place. Wednesday: 6:45 p.m., for third place; 7:35 p.m., for second place, and 8:30 p.m., the championship game.

In case of ties in league standing, a coin flip will determine playoff place, except for first place which will be determined by a playoff game. Teams that do not show at playoff time will forfeit their places.

Sports Briefs

The Ski Club will sponsor a trip to the Hyack ski area Sunday.

Details of the trip are on the bulletin board opposite LA 124.

The club will have a meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Bannan 102 to elect new officers and to discuss the spring trip to Schweitzer Basin. In addition, three films will be shown from 6-7:30 p.m.

There will be a meeting Wednesday in P 456 for all prospective tennis players, according to Cliff Hedger, coach.

THE SLOW RUSH

Illustrated below is the membership pin of a brand-new national fraternity called Signa Phi Nothing. To join Signa Phi Nothing and get this hideous membership pin absolutely free, simply take a pair of scissors, cut out the illustration, and paste it on your chest.

Let me hasten to state that I do not recommend your joining Signa Phi Nothing. The only thing I recommend in this column is Marlboro Cigarettes, as any honest man would who likes good tobacco and a good filter, whose heart is quickened by a choice of soft pack or Flip-Top Box, and who gets paid every week for writing this column.

I am frankly hard put to think of any reason why you should join Signa Phi Nothing. Some people, of course, are joiners by nature; if you are one such, I am bound to tell you there are any number of better organizations for you to join—the Cosa Nostra, for example, or the Society for the Placing of Water Troughs in Front of Equestrian Statues.

Cut it out and Paste it on your chest

But if you insist on joining Signa Phi Nothing, let me give you several warnings. First off, it is the only fraternity which admits girls. Second, there is no pledge period; each new member immediately goes active. Perhaps "inactive" is a more accurate word: there are no meetings, no drives, no campaigns, no sports, no games, no dues, no grip, and no house.

The only thing Signa Phi Nothing has in common with other fraternities is a fraternity hymn. In fact, two hymns were submitted to a recent meeting of the national board of directors (none of whom attended). The first hymn goes:

*Signa Phi Nothing,
Shining star,
How we wonder
If you are.*

The second hymn, rather more poetic in content, is to be sung to the tune of Also Sprach Zarathustra:

*A Guernsey's a cow,
A road is a lane,
When you're eating chow,
Remember the mein.*

Pending the next meeting of the national board of directors (which will never be held) members are authorized to sing either hymn. Or, for that matter, Frenesi.

Perhaps you are wondering why there should be such a fraternity as Signa Phi Nothing. I can give you an answer—an answer with which you cannot possibly disagree: Signa Phi Nothing fills a well-needed gap.

Are you suffering from mental health? Is logic distorting your thinking? Is ambition encroaching on your native sloth? Is your long-cherished misinformation retreating before a sea of facts? In short, has education caught up with you?

If so, congratulations. But spring is upon us and the sap is rising, and the mind looks back with poignant longing to the days when it was a puddle of unreason.

If—just for a moment—you want to recapture those careless vaporings, that warm, squishy confusion, then join Signa Phi Nothing and renew your acquaintance with fecklessness. We promise nothing, and, by George, we deliver it!

© 1964 Max Shulman

We, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, promise smoking enjoyment, and we think you'll think we deliver it—in all fifty states of this Union. Marlboro Country is where you are.

Fashion Coordinator Speaks at Luncheon

AWS LECTURE: Mrs. Mary Peterson (r.), fashion board coordinator for the J. C. Penney Co., smiles as she goes over some styles seen in a recent magazine. Mrs. Peterson will speak to S.U. women tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the Marycrest dining room. Margaret Swalwell, co-chairman of the event and Ray Houck, division manager for the company, look on.

"Fashion coordination with a flair" will be the topic discussed by Mrs. Mary Peterson, featured speaker of the AWS Lecture Luncheon tomorrow.

Mrs. Peterson, fashion coordinator for J. C. Penney Co., will speak in the Marycrest dining hall at 1:30 p.m.

AS AN "educational consultant," Mrs. Peterson's job covers a wide range, including work with the College Fashion Board, directing sportswear fashions and representing four pattern companies.

Her talk will center around fashion and will include the good and bad aspects of a fashion career.

HER WORK has given Mrs. Peterson the opportunity to create wardrobes for the Miss Washington and Miss Oregon beauty pageants and to be a judge in the Miss Seattle and Seafair Queen contests. She was Minnesota's candidate for Miss America in 1955.

All co-eds are invited to attend this second of the Lecture-Luncheon Series. Tickets are available in the Chieftain and women's dormitories for 75 cents. Chairmen are Margaret Swalwell and Mary Jo Shepherd.

Ford Resigns Alumni Post

Gene Ford, S.U.'s director of Alumni and Placement, announced his resignation yesterday.

According to Ford there were two factors involved in his decision to resign. The demands of his own Seattle-centered public relations firm have grown. Coupled with the demands of his S.U. position, he decided he could not divide his time between both jobs.

Ford said that like most public relations men he has the desire for private enterprise, but quickly added that he won't leave the university without mixed feelings.

He was S.U.'s director of development for six years before taking over his present position on a part-time basis last year.

The father of seven children, Ford is very interested in the university. He said, "S.U. is a fabulous place and I'll never leave it in spirit. I'm most impressed with its potential and optimistic about its future."

Theology Revision Submitted To Core Curriculum Committee

(Continued from page 1) committee heard its members express a desire to make theology a "living" study. Fr. Armand Nigro, S.J., proposed a revision of the requirements to include a modern lay theology course.

FR. FITTERER also reminded the committee that the theology dept. undertook a major change only a few years ago and may not find substantial change necessary again. As discussion continued, however, the implications of new requirements and revised structure foreshadowed further change under the new core.

A second phase of Fr. Patterson's report concerned the establishment of a theology major for lay students. He said the department was conducting a national survey of teaching opportunities for lay theology majors, which he expects to be pertinent in setting up a major program at S.U.

A study of the complementing roles of theology and Sodality was also suggested and put on the agenda for a future meeting.

Sodality Alums Meet

The S.U. Graduate Sodality will meet Tuesday for a panel discussion on "The role of the Catholic graduate in the world community" at 8 p.m. in the Chieftain lounge.

The discussion, second in a series of three during Lent, is open to the student body. Seniors, in particular, are invited to attend.

"THE SERIES," according to Pat Coughlin, chairman of the discussion, "should prove of interest to all Catholic laymen, but is of special value to the Catholic college graduate."

The panel will consist of four distinguished speakers, including Dr. John Le Cocq, orthopedic surgeon who just returned from a mission on the ship Hope; Miss Marge McQuillan, R.N., who served as his nurse; Fr. Felix Verwelghen, OMI, missionary for China, and Fr. Stephen Szeman, diocesan director of PAVLA and of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

A QUESTION and answer period will follow the discussion.

A small donation will be asked to defray expenses for refreshments.

The topic for the third discussion on March 18 will be, "The role of the educated layman in the ecumenical movement."

Three Retreats Set this Weekend

There will be two men's retreats this weekend and one for women.

Men planning to attend the closed retreat at Port Townsend beginning tonight are instructed to register in the Sodality office or with Fr. Gordon Toner, S.J., student chaplain. Cost for the retreat will be $8.50 which does not include transportation.

The open retreat for men will start at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in the L.A. Bldg. chapel.

The Marycrest chapel will be the location for the open girls' retreat which will also begin at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. All three retreats end at 2 p.m. Sunday.
